

THE WORSHIPFUL COMPANY OF GLAZIERS AND PAINTERS OF GLASS
THE ASHTON HILL AWARD 2021-22
DESCRIPTION AND CONDITIONS OF ENTRY

This ten week work placement in a noted studio of national or international repute is open to a recent graduate, a promising trainee or other individual interested in broadening his or her experience in stained glass, with a view to making a career in this field. It is excellent for those interested in stained glass conservation or glass painting as well as those aspiring to be designers and/or makers of stained glass windows. Students and practitioners from other conservation disciplines are invited to apply. Suitable candidates with an interest in a contemporary glass placement will be considered.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must be resident or employed in the United Kingdom in order to be eligible. While good basic hand skills and background knowledge are essential, glass conservation or painting experience is not considered as important as an active interest and commitment to the subject, and a willingness to learn.

THE AWARD

Up to £250 per week is available to assist in meeting the cost of subsistence, travel and rent during the ten week placement. Receipts must be submitted at the end of the award. Normally the subsistence payments are made in two tranches, one at the start of the placement and one half way through the award.

ORGANIZATION

The Company will arrange a ten week placement at a mutually convenient time with a noted conservation studio, or contemporary glass studio as appropriate. Following initial selection by the Company a further interview may be required with the studio director before the placement is confirmed. Arrangements may vary respective to the awardee's previous experience. The award winner will be required to present proof of acceptable HSE blood lead levels before entering a studio placement. The cost of this blood test will be reimbursed.

REPORTS

The award winner will be expected to provide an illustrated report of at least ten A4 pages on the placement for the Glaziers Company, and for his/her own records. This should be image-rich, and outline what you have achieved as a result of participating in this training award. The Company may also request a report from the host studio.

HOW TO ENTER

Candidates must submit a CV, together with a note on glass work or conservation work already completed (with illustrations, no more than ten images) and an indication of their future aspirations in the craft. Information must also be provided on the accompanying 'Training program' (see below). These documents must be accompanied by a confidential report on the quality of the candidate's work and potential from his/her course tutor (a reference) or an established stained glass artist or conservator. The confidential report should be emailed directly to the awards coordinator, and should not be seen by the applicant.

Entries should be sent by email to The Awards Coordinator, Dr Marie Groll award@worshipfulglaziers.com. Due to Covid, postal applications will not be accepted. Completed applications should not be received later than 28 May 2021. Please contain images within a document rather than emailing individual images. Please send no more than ten images.

ADJUDICATION

A short list will be drawn up from the entries received and short-listed candidates will be asked to attend an interview. The interview panel is composed of leading stained glass practitioners. You will be asked a series of questions during the interview in order to assess your potential, goals, and needs. It is currently not known if Covid-19 restrictions will permit an in-person meeting at Glaziers Hall near London Bridge, or if the interviews will need to be conducted via Zoom video conferencing. If the interview is held in-person, a portfolio of images of your work and an example of your own stained glass, or other practical work, should be taken along to the interview. Reasonable travelling expenses will be reimbursed. If the interview is held via Zoom instead, then the interviewee will be asked to prepare a PowerPoint presentation of their portfolio (lasting no more than 5 minutes).

The award winner will be invited to attend the annual Prize Giving Event that takes place later in the year.

The aim of all the Glaziers' Company's Awards is to raise standards of work within the craft, particularly in the UK, by offering additional training to enhance the skills of a potential specialist worker in the field. Applications are invited from individuals within five years of completion of their initial training in the craft, who are intending to undertake a long term career in stained glass. The decisions of the interviewing panel is final. It is unfortunately not possible to give applicants feedback.

THE ASHTON HILL AWARD
TRAINING PROGRAMME

To assist us in tailoring your Award placements appropriately, please indicate areas in which you have a particular interest in training. Provide extra detail if you wish. Please also indicate what experience you have in each area. You may duplicate the page if you wish. Indicate clearly which refers to experience and which to a desire to learn. Bear in mind that some areas in which you have not had any experience so far may prove to be of interest when you try them.
